

1849

The speed of light is measured to be within 5% of the modern value